GeneSTAR
DNA Technology:

What does it mean?
Why does it matter?

Over the last decade the beef industry has increasingly focused on product desirability. With feed costs being the major production cost in cattle, focusing on feed efficiency is only good management. With the use of DNA technology, we can now make rapid genetic progress in key traits, including feed efficiency, tenderness, and quality grade. The MVP's, Molecular Value Predictions explanation is provided in the information provided on the inside of the back cover.
